Section 4 | STUDENT GOALS AND RELATIONSHIP OF INTERNSHIP TO WGSS

To be completed by the student intern. In 1-3 separate pages, please answer the following short essay questions. Submit responses with this application.

1. WGSST 3191 internship credit is awarded for field-based learning experiences that explore the relationship between WGSS coursework and feminist practice. Describe how this internship experience provides a meaningful opportunity to make connections to the field of WGSS and participate in social justice work. When writing this description, please keep the following WGSS learning objectives in mind:
 - *Students will be able to think critically and intersectionally about WGSS scholarship.
 - *Students will be able to pursue interdisciplinary inquiries and to pose questions that cut across disciplinary fields
 - *Students will be able to perform WGSS research through developing an argument, organizing data, displaying evidence for that argument, and expressing ideas in writing.
2. If you are a WGSS major or minor, discuss how this internship will fit into your overall WGSS program. How will this internship complement and augment your WGSS major or minor? How does this internship fit into your future life goals?
3. List 3 specific things you hope to learn, accomplish and/or complete during this internship.

Section 5 | INTERNSHIP STUDENT AGREEMENT

To be completed by the student.

Students seeking to enroll in WGSST 3191 must complete and submit this internship student agreement to the WGSS Academic Advisor, Jackson Stotlar (wgssadvising@osu.edu), by the Friday BEFORE the first week of the semester. Students should allot sufficient time to complete this internship student agreement.

By submitting this application for WGSST 3191 internship credit, I understand and agree to the following:

1. Your internship will occur during the semester in which you are applying for credit. Credit is NOT given to internships that are already finished. Deferred credit is NOT available.
2. You will use this internship application ONLY to apply for course credit in Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies at The Ohio State University. Your internship supervisor might require you to fill out an additional application.
3. You will not be added to WGSST 3191 if the addition of those credit hours puts you over the 18 hours maximum load permitted by the university (unless you successfully petition Arts and Sciences to add credit beyond the max of 18.) Please check your course schedule before submitting this application to make certain that adding 1-3 credits will not take you over 18 hours which can result in increased tuition.
4. WGSST 3191 is repeatable up to a maximum of 6 hours, and counts as upper division credit in the College of Arts and Sciences. Up to 3 hours from 3191 can count toward the requirements for a WGSS minor or 6 credits for a WGSS major.
5. Your internship job responsibilities must be WGSS-related. This course is meant to extend the in-classroom experience of WGSS to the field-based application of WGSS theories and practices.
6. You must work the equivalent of the hours specified in this application.
7. All hours must be completed by the final day of classes during the AU, SP, or SU term you're enrolled in.
8. As a student and representative of The Ohio State University, you are required to abide by the university's Student Code of Conduct (found here <http://studentaffairs.osu.edu/csc/>) during the entirety of your internship. This applies to internships off-campus, as well.
9. You must immediately notify the WGSS Academic Advisor of any problems or concerns that arise with the internship. You also must notify the WGSS Academic Advisor immediately if you are unable to fulfill the internship duties, hours requirement, and/or if you drop the course.
10. I understand that failure on my part to complete any of the requirements in a timely manner will result in the assignment of an unsatisfactory grade.
11. Academic credit will be awarded
 - a. Based on satisfactory fulfillment of conditions listed in this agreement
 - b. Satisfactory performance as signed off by your supervisor
 - c. The completion of an Exit Survey provided by the WGSS Department, due by the last day of classes in the term for which credit is applied.
12. Approval/denial of any internship application for any reason is at the discretion of the Internship Coordinator and faculty member of record in the Department of Women's, Gender & Sexuality Studies.
