

TEACHING IN TROUBLED TIMES

PANEL & OPEN DISCUSSION

Thursday, December 8, 2016, 3-4:30 PM
University Hall Room 014

Join OSU faculty, staff, and students for a panel and open discussion about teaching in troubled times.

- In a climate of heightened racism, misogyny, Islamophobia, anti-immigrant sentiment, and homophobia, what are our rights and responsibilities as educators?
- How can we work alongside our students to build supportive and brave spaces in our classrooms?
- What are the ethical and political stakes of our interventions?

Bring your ideas and experiences to think collectively and build solidarities among those who teach and learn at Ohio State. All are welcome.
